Caltrans To Open Highway 1 Between Muir Woods And Stinson Beach Thursday, January 4, Before Noon

One-Way Traffic Control to be In Place

MARIN COUNTY – The California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) announced today the closed portion of State Route 1 between Muir Beach and Stinson Beach will open to one-way traffic control on Thursday, January 4, sometime before noon.

The stretch of roadway was closed since February of 2017 to the extensive storm damage. Drivers should anticipate lengthy delays because there are still six active projects along that section of Highway 1. There will be flaggers and signalized operations, along with stepped up construction zone enforcement throughout the entire corridor. The majority of those projects will be complete by June, 2018. To date, the repairs for all the projects on that corridor are approximately $50 million.
